

Verdantix EHS Innovation Awards Americas 2024

Recognizing outstanding achievements in the field of EHS, Sustainability & Operational Excellence

2024

The Verdantix EHS Innovation Awards Americas recognize the people and organizations who are instrumental in implementing innovative strategies, technologies and projects that improve processes, management, reporting and outcomes.

This year's awards will centre on the celebration of groundbreaking initiatives propelling excellence in EHS practices. From pioneering digital innovations revolutionizing EHS performance to initiatives cultivating a culture of safety and sustainability, these awards spotlight holistic approaches to EHS that prioritize people, planet, and prosperity.

Why enter?

Entering this year's Awards will offer you an opportunity to showcase your dedication, innovation, and impact among peers, to be recognized for your commitment to excellence in EHS practices.

By participating, you not only validate your hard work and achievements but also inspire others to strive for greater heights. The awards provide a platform to share your success story and gain well-deserved recognition for your contributions to safety, sustainability, and wellbeing. Moreover, entering the awards opens doors to new opportunities, collaborations, and connections within the industry, propelling you towards even greater success.

Please provide contact details for the individual submitting the award nomination. We need this information so that we can let you know if you are selected as a finalist. We may also contact you for supplementary information. If you experience any issues completing the form, please reach out to ldrury@verdantix.com
